refuse or neglect to depart therefrom; and to establish any other regulations which are found necessary in the premises and for the public safety.

Whereas, By Sections 4068, 4069 and 4070 of the revised statutes, further provision is made relative to alien enemies:

Vigils Loyalty.
Therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim to all whom it may concern that a state of war exists between the United States and the Imperial German government; and I do specifically direct all officers, civil or military of the United States that they exercise vigilance and zeal in the discharge of the duties incident to such a state of war; and I do, moreover, earnestly appeal to all American citizens who they, in loyal devotion to their country, dedicated from its foundations, to the principles of liberty and justice, uphold the laws of the land and give undivided and willing support to those measures which may be adopted by the constitutional authorities in prosecuting the war, to a successful issue and in obtaining a secure and just peace;

And, acting under and by virtue of the authority vested in me by the con-toward such alien enemies as conduct themselves in accordance with law, all citizens of the United States are enjoined to preserve the peace and to treat them with all such friendliness as may be compatible with loyalty and allegiance to the United States.

And all alien enemies who fail to conduct themselves as so enjoined, in addition to all other penalties prescribed by law, shall be liable to restraint or to give security, or to remove and depart from the United States in the manner prescribed by sections 4068 and 4070 of the revised statutes, and as prescribed in the regulations duly promulgated by the president;

And pursuant to the authority vested in me, I hereby declare and establish the following regulations, which I find necessary in the premises and for the public safety:

Regulations Required.
(1) An alien enemy shall not have in his possession, at any time or place any firearm, weapon or implement of war or component part thereof, ammunition, Maxim or other silencer, bomb or explosive or material used in the manufacture of explosives;

(2) An alien enemy shall not have in his possession at any time or place or use or operate any aircraft or wireless apparatus, or any form of signaling device, or any form of cipher code or any paper document or book, written or printed in cipher or in which there may be invisible writing;

(3) All property found in the possession of an alien in violation of the foregoing regulations shall be subject to seizure by the United States;

(4) An alien enemy shall not approach or be found within one-half of a mile of any federal or state fort, camp, arsenal, aircraft station, government or naval vessel, navy yard, factory or workshop for the manufacture of munitions of war or of any products for the use of the army or navy;

(5) An alien enemy shall not write, print or publish any attack or threats against the government or congress of the United States or either branch thereof or against the measures or policy of the United States or against the person or property of any person in the military, naval or civil service of the United States, or of the states or of the municipal governments therein;

(6) An alien enemy shall not commit or abet any hostile act against the United States, or give information, aid or comfort to its enemies;

(7) An alien enemy shall not reside in or continue to reside in, to remain in, or enter any locality which the president may from time to time designate by executive order as a prohibited area in which residence by an alien enemy shall be found by him to constitute a danger to the public peace and safety of the United States, except by permit from the president and except under such limitation or restriction as the president may prescribe;

(8) An alien enemy whom the president shall have reasonable cause to believe to be aiding or about to aid the enemy, or to be at large to the danger of the public peace or safety of the United States, or to have violated or to be about to violate any of these regulations, shall remove to any location designated by the president by executive order and shall not remove therefrom without a permit, or shall depart from the United States as so required by the president;

(9) No alien enemy shall depart from the United States until he shall have received such permit as the president shall prescribe, or except under order of a court, judge or justice under Sections 4069 and 4070 of the revised statutes;

(10) No alien enemy shall land in or enter the United States, except under such restrictions and at such places as the president may prescribe;

(11) If necessary to prevent violations of these regulations, all alien enemies will be obliged to register;

(12) An alien enemy who there may be reasonable cause to believe is aiding or about to aid the enemy, or who may be at large to the danger of the public peace or safety or who violate or attempt to violate, or of whom there is reasonable ground to believe that he is about to violate any regulation duly promulgated by the president, or any criminal law of the United States or of the states or territories thereof, will be subject to summary arrest by the United States marshal, or his deputy or such other officer as the president

BRINGS PRESSURE TO BEAR ON ARGENTINE

That Country Told Coal Will Be Cut Off If Wheat Embargo Stands

By Charles P. Stewart

(United Press staff correspondent)
Buenos Aires, April 6.—England has put powerful pressure on Argentina to force raising of the wheat embargo.

It was learned on unimpeachable authority today that the British government has threatened an embargo on coal as a reprisal against the grain ban announced by Argentina.

The greatest alarm was manifested among Argentine officials today. They were hurriedly making another inventory of the republic's food supplies. It was known, however, that without British coal all railroads, all shipping and all industries in the nation would be paralyzed.

The situation so far has been concealed from the Argentine public, officials not desiring to reveal the government under coercion.

Officially it was known also the government is deeply concerned over the influence behind the disaffection of Governor Ugarte of Buenos Aires province to President Irigoyen's authority. It was predicted that Ugarte's removal from the governorship would be the government's next step, provided it was certain such removal could be accomplished without bloodshed. There has been a long feud between the state and the government and Ugarte and Irigoyen.

Trying to Stir Up Negroes in South

Birmingham Ala., April 6.—The third arrest in connection with German plots to incite negroes to rebellion was made here today when a negro addressing members of his race at a local depot, declared they should join the German army. Good pay, social equality and unrestricted franchise were offered. Government agents made the arrest. The name of the negro was withheld.

Government men admit a plot has been unearthed whereby negroes working in the various coal mines and industrial plants of the district were to dynamite the mines and plants.

Appeal has been sent to Montgomery for troops, which are expected to arrive Monday to be scattered over the industrial district.

Such designate, and to confinement in such penitentiary, prison, jail, military camp, or other place of detention as may be directed by the president.

"This proclamation and the regulations herein contained shall extend and apply to all land and water, continental or insular, in any way within the jurisdiction of the United States.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed."
(Seal) "Done at the city of Washington, this sixth day of April, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, and of the Independence of the United States, the one hundred and forty-first."

(Signed) "WOODROW WILSON,
By the president: Robert Lansing, secretary of state."

Plans for Raising Armies.
Washington, April 6.—After proclaiming a state of war the president this afternoon issued the following statement regarding the means to be chosen to raise the army of two million asked for by the war heads last night:

"The principles embodied in the legislation presented by the war department to the military committees of the senate and house have my entire approval, and it is my specific recommendation that it be passed in the judgment of the officers of the war department."

"It proposes to raise the forces necessary to meet the present emergency by bringing the regular army and national guard to war strength and by adding the additional forces which will now be needed so that the national guard will comprise three elements—the regular army, the national guard and the so-called additional forces, of which a first five hundred thousand are to be authorized immediately and later increments of the same size as they may be needed in order that all these forces may comprise a single army, the term of enlistment in the three is equalized and will be for the period of emergency."

"The necessary men will be secured for the regular army and the national guard by volunteering as at present, until, in the judgment of the president a resort to a selective draft is desired."

By Selective Draft.
"The additional forces, however, are to be raised by selective draft from men ranging in age from 19 to 25 years."
"The quotas of the several states in all of these forces will be in proportion to the population."
"This legislation makes no attempt to solve the question of a permanent military policy for the country, chiefly for the reason that in these anxious and disordered times a clear view cannot be had either of our permanent necessities or of the best mode of organizing the proper military peace establishment. The hope of the world is that when the European war is over arrangements will have been made composing many of the questions which have hitherto seemed to require the arming of the nation, and that in some ordered and just way the peace of the world may be maintained by such co-operation of force among the great nations as may be necessary to maintain peace and freedom throughout the world."
"When these arrangements for a permanent peace are made we can determine our military needs and adapt our course of military preparations to the genuine of a world organized for justice and democracy."
"The present bill, therefore, is adapted to the present situation, but it is drawn upon such lines as will enable us to continue its policy, or so much of it as may be determined to be wise, when the present crisis has passed."

A TREATMENT FOR NERVES

Woman Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

West Danby, N. Y.—"I have had nervous trouble all my life until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nerves and for female troubles and it straightened me out in good shape. I work nearly all the time, as I live on a farm and I have four girls. I do all my sewing and other work with their help, so it shows that I stand it real well. I took the Compound when my ten year old daughter came and it helped me a lot. I keep it in the house all the time and recommend it."—Mrs. DEWITT SINCERAUGH, West Danby, N. Y.

Sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, backache, headaches, dragging sensations, all point to female derangements which may be overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from choice roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

* ALKAL MAKES SOAP *
* BAD FOR WASHING HAIR *

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain unsulfated coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap and beats the most expensive soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

THRILLING STORIES

Britten demanded the "ayes" and "noes." He grinned as groans arose from all over the chamber. It takes forty five minutes to an hour to call the house roll.

Speaker Clark put the question as to "ayes" and "noes" to a vote and it was overwhelmingly defeated, viva voce. A moment later the Britten amendment was defeated likewise.

Not satisfied, Britten moved that the resolution be referred back to the foreign affairs committee and reported out with an amendment identical to the one that just failed. Once more he led in an attempt to get the "ayes" and "noes."

Another motion for reference back to the committee was killed also.

The pacifists, realizing themselves defeated, died hard and at 2:37 Representative Sloan, Nebraska, offered another similar amendment which failed.

Edgar S. Schofield, a veteran of the civil war, aged 76 years, died at Albany Wednesday.

In the same manner. Decided at 3:08

Promptly at 2:45 o'clock the house started to vote on the resolution. At 3:08 the roll had been called in record time and the president's state of war resolution had passed both branches of congress.

Throughout the day and night the galleries maintained their long vigil. Up until the last minute the corridors were packed with scores ready to spring into the first seat vacated, but few persons left.

Frequently the chair had to admonish the galleries to keep silent or they would be cleared out. But ripples of applause came every time one side or the other scored an important point.

Beautifully gowned women, shoulders flashing from dewy black gowns, leaned nervously far over the edge, from the floor beneath.

Men sat in solemn silence. The crowds would laugh jerkily when there was nothing to laugh about. But the dread of what was being enacted seemed to grip every person.

Five minutes after the resolution had passed, house, chamber and galleries were deserted.

Painless Parker---Outlaw His Confessions

CHAPTER XXI
I hate to talk about dental holdup men. I'll step on so many toes with corns on them.
I'll have to tell you about the man ("My Dentist of sacred memory") who has the nerve to charge you $25 for a gold crown, when he knows full well that he can take a five dollar piece and make six and a half gold crowns from it and still make a profit. He's the fellow who can take a single silver dollar and give you fifty (yes, 50) so-called "platinum" fillings, all the time charging you from $2 to $20 for the job.

That's why I have a little delicacy about discussing the "ethical" gentlemen of the Dental Trust, with their law-established "minimum fees," their love of the "dear public," their benevolence toward Mr. Workingman, their innocence of guile, their high standards of honesty, their love of fair play.

And yet this is the Twentieth Century, and the law of the survival of the fittest still holds good.

So let's see what these gentlemen have to offer that will make their peculiar methods of business last, as against the man who would rather have "business" ethics than "professional" ethics.

"Business" ethics, in this modern age, mean something. Business is now regulated in countless ways. The modern legislatures have passed "blue sky" laws, statutes regulating honest weights and measures, pure food, fair

The Cookies that took me back to California

(Report No. 3) By a Native Daughter

It happened in my condensed little New York kitchen, with just room for the gas range, sink, table, ice-box, cupboards—and me.

I had promised a few friends a treat—cookies!

Because I wanted crisp cookies, I used wholesome Cottolene—two-thirds cup—with this new recipe:

- 2 cups sugar,
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 cup buttermilk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Flour
- Caraway seeds
- Raisins

Soon I was mighty busy pulling those crisp wafers out of the hot oven.

Then I tasted. The first bit took me back under the old plum tree in California. Maybe it was a cherry tree—anyway, there I was. Over the fence leaned the plump next-door lady. She was giving "us children" cookies. And here I was, way off in New York, tasting them again—the same cookies.

Perhaps you had a plump next-door lady? Maybe you'd like to travel backward a few years to some loved spot? Well—open your mouth and shut your eyes. And after you've tasted these wholesome Cottolene cookies I'm sure you'll say, "Please give me your recipe. I'm going to make cookies, too, today."

If you use this recipe—and Cottolene—you'll have crispy, wholesome, "remember" cookies. And you'll have them often.
